

The Star Spangled Banner

Words by Francis Scott Key Music by John Stafford Smith

Oh, [G] say can [D] you [Em] see by the dawn's ear[A7]ly [D] light, what so [G] proudly we [D] hailed at the [G] twilight's last gleaming?

Whose broad stripes and [D] bright [Em] stars, through the perilo[A7]us [D] fight, o'er the [G] ramparts we [D] watched, were so [G] gallantly streaming?

And the rockets' red glare, the bombs [D] bursting in [D7] air, gave [G] proof through the [D] night that our [G] flag [Em] was [A7] still [D] there.

[D7] Oh [G] say does that [C] star-span[E7]gled [Am] banner yet [G] wave [D] , [D7] O'er the [G] land [D7] of the [G] free [Em] and the [G] home [D7] of the [G] brave?

Play Uke!
